

SODALES is a modern creative intelligence collective AI creators, designers, filmmakers, strategist, storytellers, marketers and creative technologists. We fuse human insight and artificial intelligence to craft ideas, build brands, and tell stories that move culture forward.

Brand Guidelines

Brand Story

SODALES is a modern creative intelligence collective. The name comes from the Latin word for companions or associates, expressing fellowship, expertise, and shared purpose.

CONVERGENCE

Different minds, disciplines and technologies converge into one shared system of intelligence.

Collective

We believe the best ideas emerge through collaboration and shared perspective.

Intelligence

We combine human insight and advanced tools to create smarter and more meaningful work.

Brand Mark

- 01 Independent components converge into a shared form, creating unity from distinct parts.
- 02 An implied S is embedded in the mark — present without being a literal monogram.
- 03 A six-sided silhouette creates structure, authority, and a sense of geometric precision.
- 04 Visible #5 that implies five division of SODALES — built from parts, united by purpose.

The Logo

The SODALES logo is built from independent geometric forms that converge into a single unified symbol. Its subtle, abstract S reflects the brand's core idea of convergence different minds, disciplines, and technologies coming together to create shared intelligence. The structured silhouette communicates clarity and authority, while the negative space introduces movement, exchange, and continuous creative flow.

Business Card

The SODALES business card uses a minimalist, high-contrast approach built around Soft Ivory, Obsidian Black, Graphite Gray, and Electric Violet. The design balances generous negative space with subtle oversized brand-mark patterns, creating a refined and modern feel. Premium uncoated or lightly textured stock, soft-touch black finishes, and selective violet accents reinforce a tactile, contemporary identity while keeping the card professional and highly legible.

Dear Morgan,

At Sodales, we turn complexity into clarity. Our creative intelligence collective partners strategy with imagination to build brands that resonate and endure.

We believe the most powerful ideas live at the intersection of insight, creativity, and execution. That's where we thrive.

Thank you for considering Sodales as your partner. We look forward to building something exceptional together.

Warm regards,

Alexander Morgan

INSIGHT. STRATEGY. IMPACT.

Stationaries

The SODALES stationery system extends the same restrained visual language across letterheads, envelopes, folders, notebooks, and supporting print materials. Clean grids, subtle watermark-style logo graphics, and controlled use of Electric Violet create consistency without overwhelming the content. Materials favor premium matte papers, textured black stocks, and understated finishes such as embossing, debossing, or spot color to give the system a polished corporate character.
